

Table of contents

Acknowledgments	7
Matthias Middell Famine – A Global Perspective	9
HUNGER, RESISTANCE AND STATE POLICIES
Wendy Goldman Hunger and Politics: The Prelude to the Great Terror	31
Robert Kindler On the Run – The Kazakh Nomads and the Famine, 1930–1934	59
Olga Velikanova Aftermath of the Famine: 1922–1923	83
Klaus Mühlhahn Hunger and State Violence in the People’s Republic of China (1949–1968)	115
SYSTEMS OF RATIONING
Mariusz Jastrząb Rationing in Poland in 1945–1953	143
Martin Franc The Rationing System again? Food and Food Supply at the Time of the Economic Crisis in Czechoslovakia at the Beginning of the 1960s	173
Donna Harsch The Politics of Provisioning in the Soviet Zone of Occupation	193

NUTRITION UNDER STATE SOCIALISM

Olaf Mertelsmann
Creating Malnutrition in an Agricultural Surplus Area: Stalinist Food Policy in Newly Acquired Territory	225
Alice Weinreb
The Socialist School Lunch: Children, Mothers, and the Meaning of Work in the GDR	253
Felix Wemheuer
Dining in Utopia: An Intellectual History of the Origins of the Public Dining	277
Donald Filtzer
The Impact of the 1947 Soviet Famine on Industrial Workers	303

COMPARISONS

Stephen G. Wheatcroft
Soviet and Chinese Famines in Historical Perspective	333
Thomas P. Bernstein
Comments on the Problems and Challenges of Comparison	369
About the Authors	381