

Table of Contents

Matthias Middell Elements for a Cross-regional History of Area Studies – Introductory Remarks	7
Sergei Alymov World War II and the Cold War as a Context for Discipline Formation: The Case of Soviet Ethnography, 1940s–1960s	23
Andreas Hilger Area Studies in Times of Global Cold War: Indology in the Soviet Union	51
Tobias Rupprecht Soviet Experts on Latin America and Socialist Internationalism in the USSR during the Cold War	79
Hanna Jansen Khrushchev’s “Break to the East”, Sino-Soviet conflicts, and the regionalization of Soviet Oriental Studies	99
Markéta Křížová Josef Polišenský and the Founding of Ibero-American Studies in Czechoslovakia	129
Bence Kocsev The Unwealth of Nations. How Economists Conquered the Field of Area Studies in Hungary	167
Renata Siuda-Ambroziak Latin American Studies in Poland: Developments and Current Challenges	195
Ursula Prutsch and Mónica Szente-Varga Latin American Studies in Austria and in Hungary, 1790s–1945	215

Maximilian Georg Egyptology as an Area Study: The Case of German and French Egyptologists, 1880s–1914	253
Felix Brahm Colonial and African Studies in Germany and France: Academic Formations and Transformations, 1880s–1970s	289
Holger Stoecker Africa as a Research Project: The Public Funding of German Research on Africa through the German Research Foundation (Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft), 1920–1970	315
Ioana Popa Geneses of Area Studies in France and the Programme of the Ecole Pratique des Hautes Etudes Sixth Section	343
Torsten Loschke Beyond the Area Studies Myth: Latin American Studies in the United States, 1940–1970	385
Matthew Kohlstedt The Road Not Taken in US-based Middle Eastern Area Studies	413
Junko Koizumi The Development of Southeast Asian Studies in the Post-war Period in the United States and Beyond	445
Takeshi Hamashita Competing Area Studies between United States and Great Britain in Hong Kong and Singapore during the Cold War	479
Index	499
Contributors	521